Kaplan University Partners with iStudySmart to Offer Online Nursing Education

Silver Spring, MD. – April 1, 2009— Kaplan University has joined hands with iStudySmart.com to provide a means for students to earn a college degree outside of the traditional classroom.

We are excited to announce an alliance with Kaplan University that enables customers to pursue their education online and benefit from a 10% reduced tuition rate. Financial aid is available for qualified applicants.

Kaplan University's online programs are designed for working adults. You can attend class whenever and wherever it fits into your busy schedule. Programs include associate's, bachelor's, and master's degrees in areas, such as business, information technology (IT), nursing, health sciences, criminal justice, and many others. Continuing education and certificate programs are also available in the areas of business and finance, health care, and IT.

With iStudySmart.com's in-depth courses, students can prepare for CLEP and DSST proficiency exams that are worth college credit. For years, Kaplan has offered credit for many CLEP and DSST exams. Now iStudySmart.com makes it possible for students to prepare for exams in the convenience of their home.

How much credit can you earn?

Kaplan University accepts up to 25 percent of total program requirements through CLEP and DSST/DANTES examinations. It is a great way to get a jump start on your degree. It can also help save on college tuition expenses.

How does credit by exam work?

Students can choose from courses in humanities, natural science, math, literature, social science, business, and more. The student takes just one examination per course. Tests are given at local universities. The process includes the following:

- 1) Choose your course.
- 2) Buy the study course (internet, CD-ROM, or workbook version) and the accompanying textbook(s).
- 3) Study the assignments at your own pace and in your own space.
iStudySmart.com works with your schedule and life.
- 4) Take the sample exam to test your knowledge.
- 5) When you are ready, take the CLEP or DSST exam at the local test site.
- 6) Transfer your credit into Kaplan University.

You don't have to wait for next semester to start earning college credit. You can prepare for your future today. Choose your course and textbook, and you will be on your way to completing your degree. Visit www.istudysmart.com and look for the Kaplan logo.
